The Shield 1964

VOLUME XV

Co-Editors

Evelyn Howell and Gary Stevens

Smithfield High School, Smithfield, N.C.

Foreword

This was the time in our lives
when the pressures of life extended into the schoolroom as well as our lives outside.

There was unrest, hate, tragedy . . . shock in the very air we breathed.

In the unruffled calm of nature
we found something that quelled our frustrations and doubts:
the sight of the deep blue sky,
the glory of the autumn leaves,
murmurs from the pine-tops,
a walk along the Neuse River, a secluded spot in the woods.

All seemed to impart a quiet to our minds.

In this 1964 Shield

we hope to give a glimpse of a few scenes in our community
that have indeed illumined our hearts and subdued our fears.

For these we are grateful;
we shall hold them steadfastly in our memories.

Student

There is no life quite as colorful as that of a high school student. Follow him through these pages and you will find him unpredictable, versatile, lovable, and most certainly unforgettable.

Left: SHS students offer sacrifice to victory God.

Below: "To sleep: perchance to dream: aye, there's the rub."

All fun . . . no work

Below: "Beauty needs not the aid of ornament."

Cheerleaders' work is never done.

Right: "Glad to meet you, Terry."

Below: One and-ah two and-ah . . .

Below: "How 'bout that kiss now, Sweetie?"

Below: "Hey, Babe!! Wanna ride in my jeep?"

Below: "Here's a place where they have four girls to every boy."

Student

"Dreaming by the fire" . . . Junior Class officers Van Denning, Sandy Stallings, Charles Whitley, and Joyce Johnson.

It's a "Payne" . . . in my foot.

Above: My hair is right but how about my collar?

Below: Togetherness . . .

MR. A. G. GLENN, Principal

Administration

The Smithfield School system is made up of the high school, the central elementary school, and the South South Elementary School. There are 2000 students enrolled and a faculty of 80 teachers.

Our principal, Mr. A. G. Glenn, who is in his 31st year as head of our school, received the "Distinguished Citizen" award of the Chamber of Commerce this year. The award is made annually to a citizen on the basis of accomplishment and service to the community over a period of years. The students of S.H.S. were pleased that this honor came to their principal who has been a dedicated school administrator through the years . . . a wise counselor and friend to his students.

Mr. Glenn spends much time listening to students' problems. Here Connie Branch talks his over.

MRS. C. W. TARLTON, Secretary
She keeps our records straight.

Often we came forth into the light of things and let Nature be our teacher . . .

Departments

Guidance Program

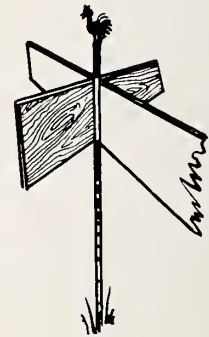

With an ultimate goal of student self-evaluation toward planning for the future the guidance program in S.H.S. is a valuable student service. Extensive vocational files and college information are available to the student to aid him in choosing a career and making his plans for that career.

"Where do I go from here," says Jimmy Putnam to Guidance Counselor, Mrs. Avery.

English

Whether preparing for college or a job after graduation, fundamentals of English usage, grammar, spelling, writing and vocabulary are important to students. Short themes, research papers, American literature, English literature are all a part of our English Course in S.H.S.

Above In Senior Literature class we had a corner reserved for Shakespeare, for 1964 was the 400th anniversary of his birth. Portions of Hamlet, The Taming of the Shrew, and Henry V were brought to our stage by Theatre-In-Education, Inc. "The play was the thing." Mary Mercer reviews her favorite lines from Hamlet.

Social Studies

Social studies teaches about the world. Our Courses retrace the experience of mankind in its most important aspects. They go through the earliest civilization, the beginnings of modern civilization, political, social and industrial revolution to modern times.

Seniors are required to take U. S. History. It is a survey of our nation's history beginning with a review of Old World events and the American colonization. The study includes the social, economic, and political conditions of the United States throughout its history.

Foreign Languages

Foreign languages promote understanding of other cultures as well as a means of communication with foreign neighbors. Our school offers two years of Latin and two of French. Students who wish may take both languages and many of the more ambitious do.

In Latin Mr. Woodard stresses Vocabulary as interested Freshmen pay strict attention.

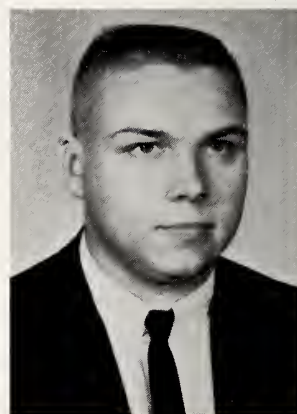

Ralph Morgan pays "strict attention" to Mrs. Boyette's explanation in Advanced Math.

Mathematics

Smithfield High School students are introduced at an early age to the need for mathematical knowledge through allowances, part-time jobs, social security, and income tax, through jets, earth satellites and the prospects of interplanetary travel. The four years of math offered prepare the students for tackling the mathematical problems of everyday life and for entry into advanced mathematical study.

Science

In class and in the laboratory, we have opportunities to explore processes of plant and animal life, to understand our own life processes, to gain knowledge about earth and sky and atmosphere and the technical "know-how" of today's scientific world. Our seeking "Why?" is the beginning of understanding the atomic world which influences our complex lives of today.

Music

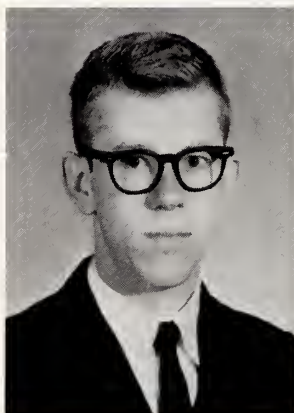

Music fills the air on the second floor of the Elementary Building for Miss Canaday and Mr. Hulcher make piano the universal language. They stimulate the creative urge, and enrich the leisure hours of many students. It is thrilling to hear harmonious voices in concert when Miss Parker and Mr. Rogers direct our Glee Club of 150 voices. Music and song have always been dear to the hearts of Smithfield High School students.

Industrial Arts and Mechanical Drawing

Use of hand tools, power tools, reading and following directions and planning and design are learned in Industrial Arts. In Mechanical Drawing skills and understanding are gained in specialized fields in engineering, architecture and industry which will contribute greatly to a correct choice and efficient performance in a career.

Health and Physical Education

The joy of participation in activities bringing development of physical fitness and a spirit of teamwork is afforded in Smithfield High School. For the boys there is touch football, basketball, softball and calisthenics. For the girls, volleyball, basketball, and calisthenics. A health course is taught along with these physical fitness activities.

Typing

Experience in typing outlines, themes, research papers, and business letters is provided in typing class. Each student has at least one year of typing before he graduates. Bookkeeping and shorthand are also offered in our Commercial Department.

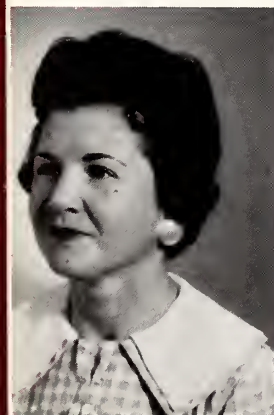

MRS. JEAN JONES

Typing, Shorthand

Techniques and skills for using the typewriter for personal and vocational purposes are developed in typing classes. Mrs. Jones kept us at it.

Library assistants (above) render daily service to the student body. Workshops on book processing, reference books, and routine duties have proved valuable to these workers this year.

Library

The library is an important aid to students. The freshmen have a very effective orientation program each year under the supervision of Mrs. Vinson, our librarian. 300 new books have been added to our library this year. The process of setting up an information file and setting up a permanent card file for periodicals are two library projects that are in the making at the present.

Art

High School Art Class meets the fourth period each day. It is here that students develop basic skills in drawing and painting, color composition, design and sketching. Students, under the direction of Mrs. Adams, often display their paintings in attractive arrangements in school and for various special projects in town. Arranging bulletin boards and directing make-up for plays give art students an opportunity for another type of expression.

"Doing easily what others find difficult is talent." Buddy Hooks (seated) proves that this statement is true.

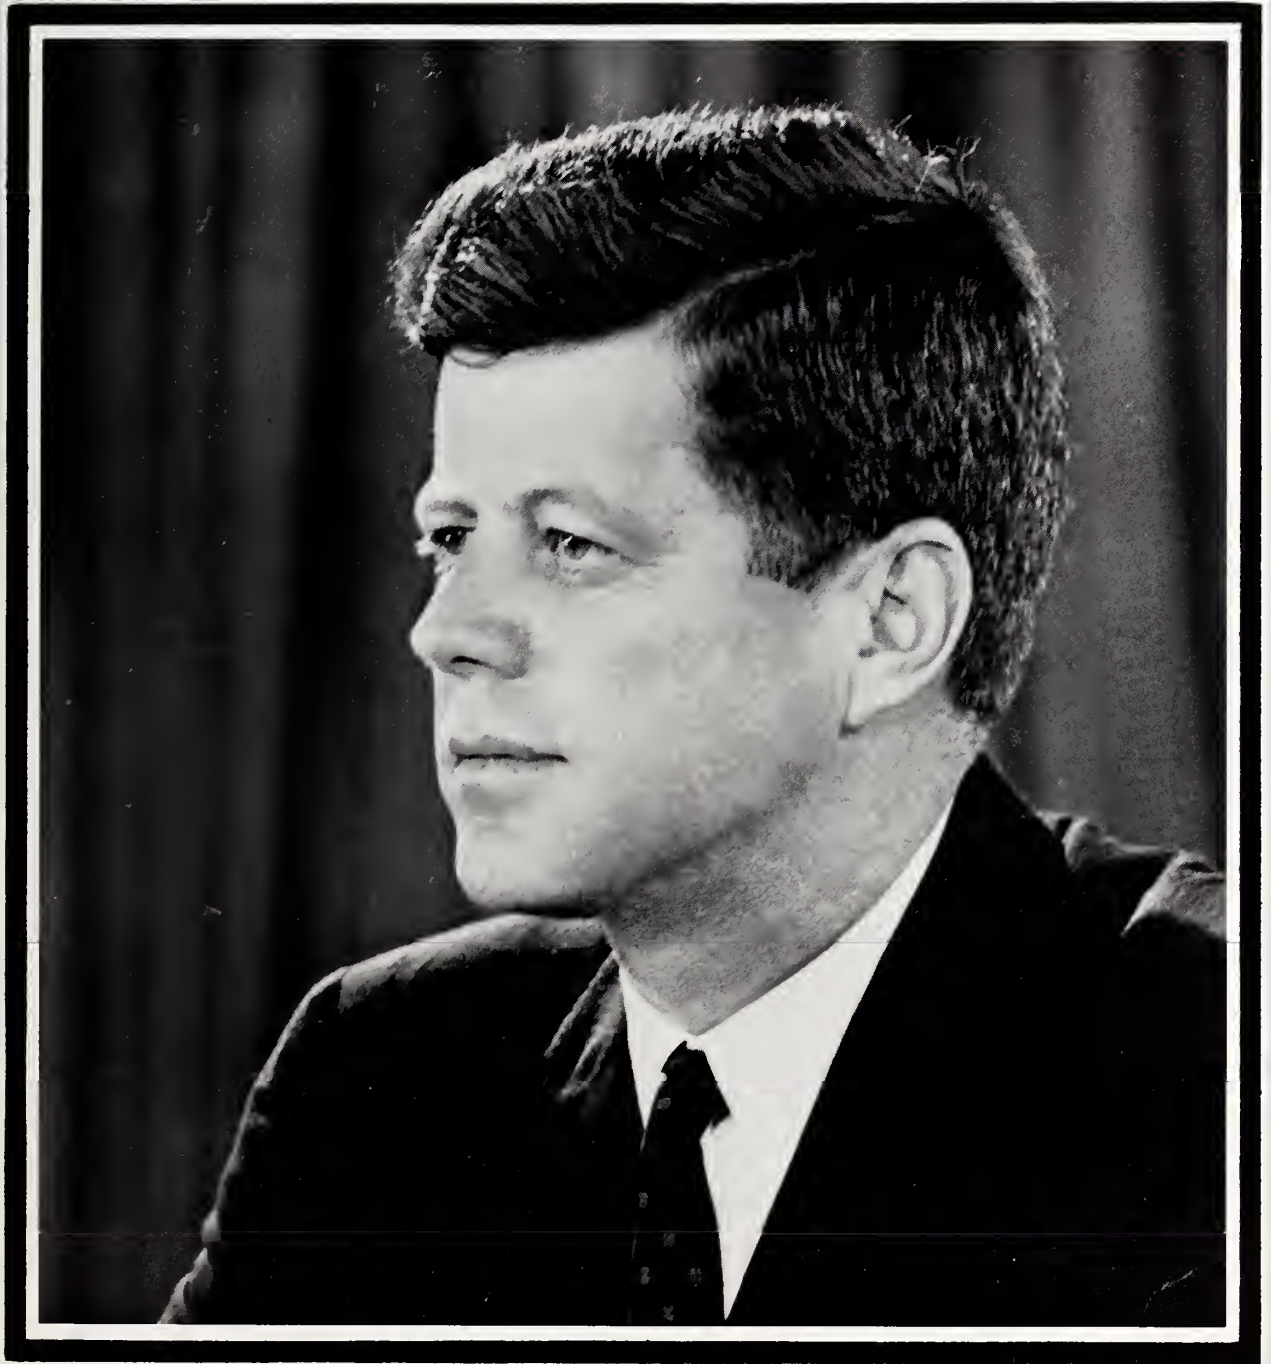

MRS. ANDREA BOYETTE

It is an honor to pay tribute to one who has become such a genuine part of Smithfield High School. Her interest in her students and her eagerness to help them have endeared her to all who have come under her influence. Because she means so much to so many in her instruction of math, we the students of S.H.S., dedicate the 1964 SHIELD to Mrs. Andrea Boyette.

Senior Musicians

Left: Thad Hardee has obtained "superior" ratings in the National Guild of Piano Auditions; will enter spring of '64 N. C. Federation of Music Clubs Festival; vice-president Hunter Johnson Music Club '63-'64; Youth Choir First Baptist Church; accompanist, music club meetings; pianist (departmental) at Sunday School. Thad plans to major in music at college.

Below: Carolyn Lewis has been awarded "superior" ratings in the National Guild of Piano Auditions, and Federated Music Clubs Festivals; chosen in competitive try-outs; a member of the All-State High School Band for '62-'63; accompanist and soloist SHS Sr. Band; sponsored by the Smithfield Sr. Woman's Club as piano soloist for the '64 spring District Contest; President of the Hunter Johnson Music Club '63-'64; Youth Choir First Baptist Church; plays the organ; plans to continue music study in college.

Like rivers, classes are moving roads . . .

Classes

Above: Pretty girls and a jeep! This was our advertising staff: Candy Jackson, Cora Bell, Lindsay Park, Geanie Upchurch, Mary Mercer, Kaye Ayscue, Ruth Ann Hamilton, Diana Gilchrist, Laura Lynn Laughter. In the jeep, Millard Stallings, advertising manager and Andrea Lee.

Below: Others worked too! Wayne Medlin typed; Joan Cooke, assistant editor, checked copy; Carolyn Lewis, business manager, kept the books; Woody Stephenson edited the sports; Bobby Poteat and Tony Stanley did the photography.

Shield Staff '64

It was a matter of putting our heads together and getting the job done. We did just this and now the fifteenth edition of the Shield is in your hands. The school bought a camera and Bobby Poteat learned how to manipulate it. By the trial and error method he learned to snap us as we really were. He called them candid shots. The girls on the advertising staff were business like and brought in creditable financial returns. Millard Stallings was their inspiration! Behind it all was Mrs. Glenn, our experienced sponsor, who kept us all in check and saw to it that we met the deadline, that fatal day, February 22.

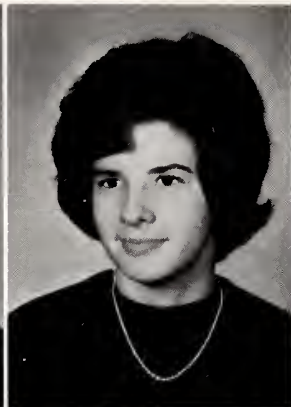

Above: Co-editors Evelyn Howell and Gary Stevens cut and measure pictures. It was all serious business to them.

Often we observed our county government and were taught that the best government is that which teaches us to govern ourselves . . .

Left: Denis Antoine, our first exchange student in Smithfield High School, came to us in September from Paris, France. Denis was graduated from high school in Paris last year. In order to strengthen his learning in America, he enrolled in American History, American Government, English III, English IV, and Public Speaking. He has contributed much to our school life, and we are all richer by having him among us this year. We trust that he too has been enriched to some degree and that the bonds of friendship have been cemented in such a manner that he will return to us again before long.

Blessings on Thee, Little Men

Freshmen Billy Grice and Earl Capps, "green in judgment," seek "mature" advice from Seniors Jerry Pounds and Millard Stallings.

Worthy of High Praise

The Energetic too found repose and serenity . . .

Juniors and Seniors Make Their Exits and Entrances in "We're All Guilty"

Above: "I won't be quiet!" shouts Johnny. "Somebody ought to give him the same thing he gave her . . ."

The essence of this timely play dealt with contributory guilt to our vexing problem "juvenile delinquency." Some parents abdicate their parental responsibilities by allowing their children to run wild without direction. Some are more concerned with giving material things rather than love and affection. Some stifle their children through denial of basic freedoms while others have too much freedom. All of these examples are brought out in the play emphasizing the fact that juvenile delinquency begins in the home, but in the true light of the problem We're All Guilty.

Right: "I'm sorry I lost my temper, Your Honor," apologizes Johnny, as his proud mother and sister look on.

Left: "Before we judge our children, should we not judge ourselves?" queries Judge Frazier to the parents of Gary, their over-indulged son.

Above: The floor was crowded but we kept in step.

Freshman Dance Was a "Ball"

Welcome, Freshmen! And so the seniors did at the annual Freshman dance in the school gymnasium. With genial spirits and open arms, the seniors of the class of '64 received the 160 Freshmen into the folds of Smithfield High School in a fitting manner. When the night ended the sophisticated seniors declared: "Those little naive freshmen were cute as a button."

Below: Pete Stallings and Larry Sullivan in an original skit portraying Principal Glenn interviewing a Freshman's father.

Below: "Have you got a date?" says Robert Beland to Jan Wellons.

Homecoming Autumn

We got into the mood of Homecoming with Chapel on Wednesday . . . cheers . . . skits . . . and presentation of the court. On Thursday evening at the Recreation Park we continued our display of gleeful spirits around a blazing bonfire. On Friday our colorful parade through town and on to Selma climaxed pre-game activities. As for the game . . . well . . . we philosophically summed it up by saying: "It's not that you won or lost—but how you played the Game."

On the field before the Selma game Carolyn Edwards, homecoming queen, escorted by Co-Captain Connie Branch, is crowned by Coach Roy Brown.

Our Homecoming Dance began with the presentation of the queen and her court.

"The Magnificent Seven" from the senior class were "extra special" in their original novelty numbers.

1964 Festival

Whitty Whitley, president of the student body, welcomed the 400 students and alumni to the Homecoming Program Dance in the gym. The program with Millard Stallings as Master of Ceremonies went well. Lively skits, specialty song numbers, and original acts made up the main features. The introduction of the queen and her court ended the program and then we danced and danced . . . and danced.

The "Harvest Festival" was our theme. The autumn moon shone down on us all . . . but here Karen Johnson and Millard Stallings are in its glow.

Deep-throated drums thump—horns pipe and squeak and sputter—can this be music? Yes—music in the making. Hours of practice and drill result in sparkling performances on the field, in the parade, and on the stage.

Gone are the pipes and squeaks and sputters and in their stead is stirring band music that quickens the pulses—the music of a band that has grown from a small group to its present size of 40 enthusiastic members.

Science

The Science Club furnishes additional science study and projects for those students who have special talent in science.

Monogram Club

The Monogram Club of 44 members is an organization made up of all those students who have won a letter in some extracurricular sport. The club sponsors Athletics Awards Day and the annual Twerp week ending in a dance at the Legion Hut.

Above: Whitty Whitley and Robby Williams conduct an experiment in Mr. Payne's Science Club.

Future Teachers

Future teachers look toward a satisfying profession where the field is broad and modern trends in education makes teacher training exciting and stimulating.

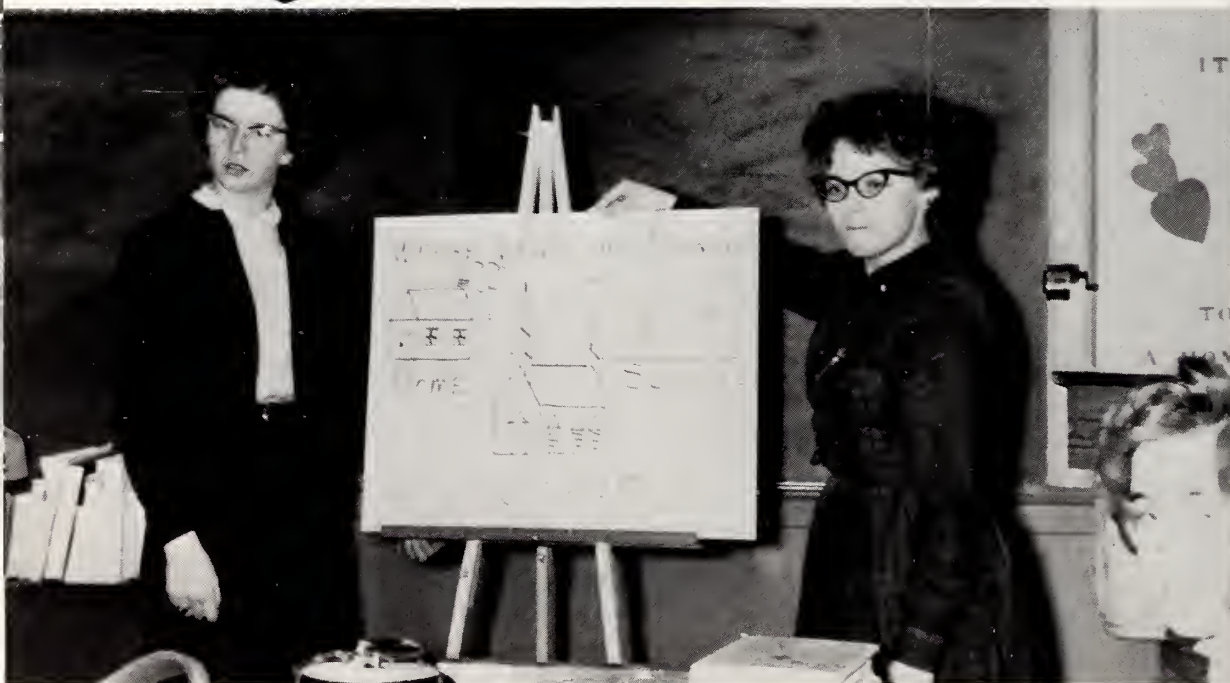

Future Homemakers

Through club and home projects, FHA members seek to promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfaction of home-making and to foster the development of creative leadership in home and community life.

FTA officers: Mrs. Andrea Boyette, sponsor; Judy Ward, secretary; Diana Gilchrist, president; and Sandra Grice, vice-president.

Ellen Daughtry and Marilyn Moye give FHA program showing the influence of the home, church, and school on the student's moral values.

No group is more active in our school than the cheerleaders. They sell football tickets, arrange bulletin boards, wrap goal posts before each home game, travel miles and miles, encourage a fine spirit of sportsmanship in the school and in the process of all this, they often lose their voices, much sleep . . . but never their enthusiasm. To these unsung heroines we give praise!

Football '63

The Red Devils showed excellent spirit and sportsmanship this year in winning five football games and losing four. What the boys lacked in experience, they made up for in desire to win. Special recognition went to Jan Williams and Robert Myrick for making the All-Conference selection. Robert received an added honor by being selected to the All-East Team, a coveted honor by all high school footballers in this area.

Boys' Basketball

"Sophomore Joe Lansinger, who scorched the nets with 37 points, sank a field goal with five seconds to play in an overtime period Tuesday night to give the Smithfield boys a 70-68 win over Selma's quint after the Red Devils had erased a 15 point deficit during a three-minute period midway the fourth quarter." Such a headline as this in the Smithfield Herald describes our past season's basketball team. They played excellent team ball and gave the best they had in every game. Losing only three players by graduation, the future looks bright for next year's team.

Girls' Basketball

Girls can play ball and did! This year's Red Devil sextet had a winning season because of excellent ball control and a strong desire to win. They twice defeated their arch rival Selma; once, in a game with three sensational overtimes. With an eye to the future, it might be noted that this year's team included only three seniors and promises are that a good season for the varsity girls awaits us next year.

J. V. Basketball

This year's Junior Varsity basketball team has been very successful. With a sharp eye for the basket and good team spirit they racked up an impressive record of 10 wins and 1 loss. Under Coach Roy Brown, the Little Red Devils have developed some fine prospects for next year's varsity team.

Right: "Don't worry, Jan, Varsity's Joe Lansing doesn't need any help."

Baseball 1963

This year's edition of the Red Devil team was an inexperienced one which suffered a record of 2 wins and 8 losses. Many of these games were lost by close margins. With the experience these boys gained, the future should be brighter for the upcoming baseball season.

This may not be a home run but this hit will take Shorty Vernon to first safely.

(Below) In a conference track meet held at State College, Jay Wellons strains hard to capture third place in the 100 yard dash.

Although the '63 track team was large and inexperienced, their record was remarkable. The Cinder-men in regular conference competition took 30 first places and scored a total of 317 points. The team under the leadership of Coach Roy Brown won three meets, came in second in tri-meet, and only last one meet. These statistics reveal that each individual practiced hard in order to keep up the school's tradition of a winning team.

Custodians

Faithful to the cause are our custodians. We appreciate our warm building, clean floors, and the many jobs they do for our comfort. It may be finding a child's lost coat, binding his cut finger, or looking at his report card . . . this is all a part of a day's work.

Lunch Room

Lunch room service pleases the teachers and student body. With Mrs. Ward at the helm, good food is served daily. The menus contain a variety of dishes that are attractive and appetizing.

Above: Marie Nixon, Rosie Mae Sanders, Leugenia King, Jean Raeford and Mary Murphy may not be serving T-bone steaks or fillet mignon but we liked their dishes.

Our town affords many modern businesses . . . which we the students daily patronize. It may be a London Fog, Ivy League fashions, drugs, or fancy groceries—all may be found in our up-to-date shopping centers.
